

Angelo Aranguren

Angelo Joaquin Aranguren died Friday, July 10, at a Chico hospital following a lengthy illness. He was 67.

He was born March 12, 1920, in Wilmington to Severiano and Mary Aranguren.

He owned and operated K-W Auto Wreckers in Chico since 1967. Prior to that, he worked as an excavating and paving contractor.

He was a veteran of World War II, a member of Paradise Elks Lodge and St. Thomas More Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife Helen Aranguren of Paradise; daughter Ilona Cronan of Chico; son Robert Aranguren of Chico; brothers John Aranguren of Whittier, Frank Aranguren of Big Bear and Joe Aranguren of Fremont; and one grandchild.

Private memorial services were held Monday at Glen Oaks Memorial Park in Chico. Arrangements were in care of Brusie Funeral Home of Chico.
